Customer Reviews

Kevin has made learning this product surprisingly easy. I was able to immediately put my instruction to use creating my own workable projects without confusion.I liked how he gave the final project view at the beginning of each module so that I knew exactly what I was reaching for.My background is in developing end user curriculum for a web-based knowledge management portal and am a grad student in Instructional Systems Technology. I understand barriers to study as a student and appreciate Kevin addressing any traps that I may have fallen into in my studies. His instruction respects the student's needs and I appreciate it.
