1. This is NOT a WeightWatchers® International publication. While there are numerous diet books on the market bearing the term "Weight Watchers", many are NOT affiliated with or sponsored by WeightWatchers® International, the highly successful weight loss life style started by Jean Nidetch and promoted by Oprah Winfrey. See: [...]

2. This statement from the introduction "...you do not have to worry about counting points..." may lead one to believe that these are all WeightWatchers® 0 points. The "Buttermilk & Banana Smoothie", recipe number 6, is 19 points. As adherents to the real WeightWatchers® program know, this is a VERY high point value for a single item.

3. Not all of the recipes are low-calorie. The same "Buttermilk & Banana Smoothie" contains 608 calories. (This was calculated using "The Complete Book of Food Counts", 6th edition, by Corrine T. Netzer.)

4. Despite the above reservations, I give the book 3 stars. I will use the recipes for inspiration AND count WeightWatchers® points, using 4-5 point recipes for a snack, 7 - 9 points as a small meal, and 9 -12 points as a larger meal.

waste of time and money. gave no point values
