I honestly wasn't for sure (at first) if I would like this cookbook | I mean, a cookbook about ALL side dishes?! How many different side dishes could a person create!? (And I'm a dessert guy!) BUT I was seriously blown away by this book | I LOVE IT! The book doesn't have photographs for every single recipe | but with this book, I've really found it doesn't matter. The descriptions (as well as the recipes) more than make up for lack of photos. (And I'm a picture person too and I didn't seem to miss them with this book |) Don't get me wrong though there ARE photos | and the photos that are included are absolutely gorgeous! The book is sectioned off into several different chapters | Getting It to the Table: which gives tips and tricks on baking, cooking, deep frying, etc. This section also provides sample menus to give inspiration to your Holiday planning. Eat Your Vegetables: (I like how Rick goes into detail here about each vegetable and when it's in season, what you look for in choosing one at the market, and even how to store it - genius!) One of my favorite recipes from this section is the recipe for Warm Shaved Asparagus With Parmesan, Pine Nuts, and Basil • (page 25). I would have never thought about shaving the asparagus into ribbons - I love this idea! How perfect to add to salads, etc. I admit that I skipped the pine nut addition to this recipe - and it still turned out wonderfully! I also enjoyed Retro Green Bean Casserole • (page 37) just for the simple fact that he included it here. I love retro recipes that remind me of my childhood, of my Grandma and of simpler times. Speaking of retro - I also really enjoyed Rick's Broccoli and Cheddar Casserole • (page 49).
